

JANICE THOMPSON, AUTHOR

101 What If's?

 0 Comments

*Creativity is allowing yourself to make mistakes. Art is knowing which ones to keep. –
Scott Adams*

What If...

The "what if" scenario is a wonderful way to teach creative thinking. Forcing yourself to think things through to the very end is important for a good story. Imagination is the key...

1: "What if every time you asked someone a question, they answered you with a question?"

2: "What if a Famous Superstar suddenly changed drastically?"

3: "What if God had designed us to walk on our hands?"

4: "What if cars disappeared off the face of the earth?"

5: "What if the clouds were on the ground?"

6: "What if you had to fix dinner?"

7: "What if you found a secret room in your house?"

8: "What if your pet could speak?" (speak Fido, speak)

9: "What if you could hear the angels singing?"

10: "What if you could see beyond the clouds?"

11: "What if the doctor told you that you had a rare sneezing disease?"

12: "What if electricity had not been discovered?"

13: "What if your parents announced that you were moving to another country?"

14: "What if you were the teacher for a day?"

15: "What if the world really was flat?"

16: "What if flowers only bloomed at night?"

17: "What if the insects were bigger than you?"

18: "What if someone stole your Christmas presents?"

19: "What if the animals got mixed up? – Dogs meowing, etc."

20: "What if you lived in a 12-story house, one room on each floor?"

21: "What if there were no windows?"

22: "What if you lost your sense(s) for a day?"

23: "What if you could build a church? What would it look like?"

24: "What if you could build a house? What would it look like?"

25: "What if you could build a car? What would it look like?"

26: "What if Noah hadn't built the ark?"

27: "What if Adam and Eve hadn't sinned?"

- 28: "What if Joseph and Mary lived today?"
- 29: "What if Queen Vashti had come when her husband summoned her?"
- 30: "What if Jonah hadn't run from God?"
- 31: "What if Ruth hadn't gone with Naomi?"
- 32: "What if God had given us only six days in a week?"
- 33: "What if each day was 48 hours long?"
- 34: "What if we had only one season?"
- 35: "What if every day was Monday?"
- 36: "What if celebrating Christmas was against the law?"
- 37: "What if being a Christian was against the law?"
- 38: "What if scientists discovered something that they thought could keep us alive forever?"
- 39: "What if your best friend lied about you?"
- 40: "What if you had no fingernails?"

41: "What if you had three legs?"

42: "What if everything bitter turned sweet and vice versa. What would you eat? Not eat?"

43: "What if you could see the whole earth from God's POV?"

44: "What if the moon was really made of cheese?"

45: "What if the stars refused to shine?"

46: "What if the rivers and oceans dried up?"

47: "What if Jesus had chosen to come today instead of 2000 years ago? Who would He hang out with? Where would He go?"

48: "What if you could actually hear God's voice?"

49: "What if the rocks and trees really did start praising God?"

50: "What if you could name the animals?"

51: "What if we slept during the day and worked at night?"

52: "What if you were the King or Queen of your own country? What kind of laws would you make? Why?"

53: "What if you were a chef?"

54: "What if you could see twice as far as you can now?"

55: "What if you discovered that the swimming pool was full of jello? What would you do? How would you get rid of it?"

56: "What if you were required by law to give up your favorite food? What would it be? How would you respond?"

57: "What if you had no teeth?"

58: "What if you could design a city park?"

59: "What if you were in charge of transportation?"

60: "What if you were the pastor of a large church? What type of sermon would you write, etc?"

61: "What if gravity ceased to exist?"

62: "What if slavery still existed?"

63: "What if you could fly? Where would you go?"

64: "What if you could change colors like a chameleon?"

65: "What if eating sugar was against the law?"

66: "What if Jesus came for lunch?"

67: "What if I gave away all my toys?"

68: "What if our car broke down?"

69: "What if my dad lost his job?"

70: What if my best friend moved away?"

71: "What if I had a new baby sister?"

72: "What if my father was my school teacher?"

73: "What if my great-great grandmother was still alive?"

74: "What if our food came in pill form?"

75: "What if my mother and father told me I was adopted?"

76: "What if my parents decided to build a wall around our house?"

77: "What if the neighbors got mad at us?"

78: "What if the grocery store stopped selling groceries?"

79: "What if the cars all ran on electricity?"

80: "What if flying to the moon wasn't such a big deal?"

81: "What if a newspaper reporter thought my life made an interesting story?"

82: "What if I found out that one of my grandparents was famous?"

83: "What if the President invited me to lunch?"

84: "What if the speed limit changed?"

85: "What if we had to build our houses under water?"

86: "What if music disappeared?"

87: "What if Hitler had never been born?"

88: "What if tennis shoes were banned?"

89: "What if my hair stopped growing?"

90: "What if I became a pro ball player?"

91: "What if we could hear our thoughts out loud?"

92: "What if we earned a nickel for every time we complimented someone?"

93: "What if Christians stopped telling others about the Lord?"

94: "What if we lived to be 200?"

95: "What if I had never been born?"

96: "What if saying 'I Love You' was against the law?"

97: "What if everyone always got their own way?"

98: "What if I awoke to discover that the grass in my yard was pink?"

99: "What if my parents wanted to trade rooms with me?"

100: "What if my dreams always came true?"

101: "What if there were no 'what if's?'"

By JThompson

Published: March 16, 2024 - Last updated: May 6, 2024

Creative Writing Lessons

Edit

← 101 Great Story-Bagging Combinations

Story Starters →

COMMENTS

COMMENT

Write your comment...

NAME *

EMAIL *

Copyright © 2024 Janice Thompson, Author | Trellis Framework by Mediavine